THE FALLEN LEAF OF 1933

BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF
RUTLAND HIGH SCHOOL

St. Olaus

Foreword

In Rutland High School as in an Indian tribe, a definite pattern is followed according to tradition. The Maidens and the Braves are guided and directed by the Chieftains until they are worthy of the merits to be bestowed upon them. The Papooses benefit by the experiences and counsel of those who are their elders, and then are advanced in tribal customs and ceremonies. Since the ways of the world are harsh, knowledge, practical and theoretical, is best gained under tribal care and inspiration.

Dedication

WE, THE SENIOR CLASS DEDICATE
the Talisman of 1953
to
MR. EDMUND L. BOYCE

As class adviser, teacher, and friend throughout our four years, he has guided us, taught us, and encouraged us. We shall long remember and revere him.

A Tribute

ARTHUR M. GUILD - PRINCIPAL 1947-1953

Rutland High School lost a superior principal and a true friend when Arthur M. Guild resigned his position in February of 1953 after having been associated with the school for nearly twenty years.

It was with heavy hearts that the student body bade him farewell. The Senior Class, in particular, felt the immensity of his giving and the impotence of mere thanks. His genuine personal interest in the students took on the warmth of close friendship, and his absence was keenly felt in the closing days of their high school career.

With grateful appreciation the Senior Class wishes Mr. Guild success and happiness in his new field of endeavor, and speaking for themselves and underclassmen say: "We were honored to have had you as our principal and friend."

A Tribute

MISS MARIE W. JOHNSON - 1907-1953

The Class of 1953, the entire student body, and all your associates bid you, Miss Johnson, adieu most reluctantly. We only hope that your years as a teacher—so deeply appreciated by our class, by the undergraduates, and by all the classes that have come and gone before us—have been rewarding to you in no small measure. To you who have been our true friend, our inspiring adviser, and our capable instructor we say, "Thank you," knowing well that words can never express our gratitude to you for having lighted our way to wisdom instead of merely opening the door to knowledge.

It is indeed a privilege to have an opportunity to express my thanks to the staff, to the Talisman Business Board, to the Senior Class, and to Miss Flynn, Mr. McKerley, Miss Doane, and to the other faculty members for their assistance, without which this twenty-fourth Talisman could not have been possible.

HOMER B. ASHLAND

Superintendent of Schools

Commencement has long been a time of both joy and sadness. Yours will be the same,—made somewhat more sober by an uncertain future.

This is a good time to take stock, and to ask ourselves what it is that makes life really worthwhile individually and collectively. I submit to you that honesty, not only in all our dealings with others, but particularly in our thinking, is one of the highest of all civic virtues. Somehow we must learn that we cannot be less than honest ourselves, and yet expect everyone else to do what is right. Because many have not yet learned that lesson, we have seen the shadow of corruption cast over our land. Between truth and falsehood, good and evil, there is no compromise. If you would be truly happy yourself, and at once help to promote the good life in your time, guard your integrity as you would your life!

HOMER B. ASHLAND

ELLERY R. PURDY

Acting Principal of Rutland High School

Graduates:

You are now on your way into a larger, if not a happier, phase of life. We, your teachers, hope you know where you are going, and that we have helped to give your life some definite direction. For that is a most important factor to success—to have a goal, an end in view, constantly before you, regardless of distractions. If you can do that you must eventually attain some degree of success and happiness, which we of the faculty now join in wishing to you.

President's Message

Classmates and friends,

We are here together now for one of the last times as a group, reflecting on the four years which we are just completing.

When we, as Freshmen, came to high school, we were still children. Our instructors, both as teachers and as friends, have guided us capably through our growing-up period. As we recall, these years have been ones of utmost happiness. We shall probably never have another period so rich in fun and learning.

Now we are able to be on our own, to judge values and make decisions without assistance, whether we are fighting, working, or studying. For some of us, this seems rather overpowering and even frightening, for I think that it is not until one is ready to leave high school that he realizes how little he really knows.

But I am sure that, as we leave these familiar surroundings, each of us will have a purpose in life and the determination to carry it out. We are prepared to make our place in the world, and we thank you, our parents and teachers, for the spirit and knowledge you have given us.

"Ever Since Eve" was successfully presented December 5 at two performances as the 1953 Senior Play. Many obstacles arose, but the determination of the cast and crew made their play a credit to the school. The light comedy depicted a high school girl, Susan Blake, and the trouble she walked into when she promoted herself into the position of assistant editor of her school newspaper.

Class History

by

PATRICIA CHENEY AND MARYANN HORTON

Many moons ago a new tribe of papooses meekly came into this new hunting ground which was to be their home for the next four years. The Big Chiefs of the senior class "gently" welcomed us into the tribe, at the Freshman Reception. Gathering courage, we banded together and chose Peter Perkins as head brave; Mary Webber as assistant squaw; Olaf Garcia as tribe wampum keeper. Our braves and squaws proved their worth in sports, cheerleading, and majorettes.

The Indian summer of 1950 saw another year of successes. Peter Perkins was again our head brave; Olaf Garcia, his assistant; and Gayle Bancroft, the wampum keeper. Wigwam 114 danced to victory in the school basketball tournament. "Big Squaw" Betty Cameron headed the sophomore dance, "Sugarin' Off." Talented braves and squaws went to All-State Chorus, Band, and Orchestra and to New England Orchestra. Peter Perkins was elected Student Council vice-president on the last full moon of the tribe's second year.

At last! We were now allowed into the great inner circle of Upperclassmen Warriors. Our first feat resulted in the choosing of Peter Perkins as head brave and Herbert Russell and Nancy Russell as his helper "injuns." Of course, all good little Indians are known for their great athletic skill. Our Red Raider squaws were champions in both Class Basketball and Class Hockey tournaments. The braves earned their feathers, too, by helping the tribe win both the State Basketball and State Football Tournaments. One mighty brave, Olaf Garcia, brought glory to the Redmen by being elected to the All-State football team. I don't believe that many of us will forget our trip to Boston, Massachusetts, for the New England Basketball tournament. The Junior Varsity basketball team was cheered on by maiden cheerleaders, Jane Herrick, Arleen Mayer, Roberta Bantis, Betty Cameron, and Frances LaMoria.

Our Redmen excelled in other fields, too. Gene Tappan, Donald Evans, and Jane Herrick were chosen officers of the International Relations Club, to promote friendships with tribes in other countries. As moons went by, honors were heaped on our Red Raiders. Linda McKerley was named Editor-in-Chief of the Red and White, the tribal publication, with Janet Bidgood as Associate Editor and Connie Dailey as Business Manager.

Then came the fateful day when six outstanding "injuns" were chosen to the National Honor Society. Betty Cameron, Jane Herrick, Linda McKerley, Peter Perkins, Gene Tappan, and Mary Webber were the juniors who wobbled up on the stage and managed to light their honorary candles.

Pete Perkins was elected great Chief of Chiefs, the President of the Student Council, by the members of the Great Circle.

As spring dawned, we Junior Redmen were given the privilege of planning the Senior Reception. Betty Cameron led many little warriors in presenting "Tomotsu-Kuni," which is Japanese for "Heavenly World."

As the end of the year approached, the Monitors for 1952 were announced. Twenty-six of our tribe were chosen to try to maintain peace in our corridors.

Soon the delegates selected to represent us at the great campfires of Girls' and Boys' States were announced. Janet Bidgood, Betty Cameron, Jane Herrick, Maryann Horton, Linda McKerley, and Mary Webber were the honored squaws. The braves were Dale Benway, Norman Davis, Donald Evans, Steve Lyne, Dick Frenier, Olaf Garcia, Larry Muhlberg, Pete Perkins, Gene Tappan, Ronald Woods, and Herbert Russell. The Raiders were honored when Betty, Jane, and Herbert journeyed to the Great Pow-wow at Girls' and Boys' Nations. Donald Evans also won the Roland Robinson essay contest.

1952—OH! We were now the Great Chiefs of the tribe of Red Raiders! Already we wore our feathered chieftain's bonnets with dignity and possibly a little haughtiness. We immediately proved out authority by initiating the new tribe of papooses with a trip to Siberia, led capably by Chief Herb Russell.

Soon we elected the "Injuns" to guide the mighty tribe. Pat Cheney was chosen as Head Chief, with Jim Grady, assistant; Arleen Mayer kept the tribal notes; while Nancy Russell guarded the wampum.

After much work and fun with Mrs. Morrill and Miss St. Clair, we presented our Senior Play, "Ever Since Eve," starring Dick LaCoe, Arleen Mayer, Mary Roberts, and others.

As usual, honors came to many of our great warriors. Arleen Mayer was chosen to represent us as D. A. R. Good Citizenship girl. In the annual Winter Carnival held here in Rutland, Jane Herrick was picked as Queen over many other squaws.

We were not to be outdone in sports, either. Senior maidens copped the All-Class Basketball Championship; while the warriors contributed their share to Varsity Basketball, Football, and Baseball, and Track.

Also, as in former years, delegates represented us in both the All-State and All-New England Festivals.

Suddenly we realized that our time for leaving the hunting grounds was coming closer and closer. The Senior committees were announced and work began. Jan Bidgood was named mighty Editor-in-Chief and Pat Derby and Dave Burney were named Co-Business Managers of our log-book, the Talisman.

As final honors for our fine tribe, five members were inducted into the National Honor Society. Dale Benway, Donald Evans, Steve Lyne, Arleen Mayer, and Pat Cheney were the feted redskins.

We have been recalling many, many moons of utmost happiness in this great hunting ground, Rutland High School. May all little "injuns" do the same.

Class Will

BETTY CAMERON AND DONALD EVANS

Hey there, papooses, draw near. Look at what we just found. Our Chief Prophets, Princess Sparkling Water Cameron and Chief Rain in the Face Evans, just came back from a wilderness trip. They came upon an old birch log which was nonchalantly kicked aside. Amidst the crawling ants and caterpillars they found this moss-covered parchment. Let's have a look. "The last Will and Testament of the tribe of 1953." Must be an old Indian will. Let's read on. It says:

Squaw Mae Armstrong wills her name to any weak girl who would like to have a strong arm handy.

Pete Bartenstein leaves his silver C.A.P. wings to anyone who has the misfortune to be caught in detention without a means of escape.

Dale Benway wills his essay writing manuals to Ernest Hemingway, who is also an up-and-coming author.

Gerry Bianchi bequeaths his 1924 red Rolls Royce to Mr. Canary, so that he can have a car to match his sparkling tresses.

Any Junior girls looking for a regular Saturday night date? See Janet Bidgood; maybe she could help you out. We're sure Bob, Dick, Mike, and John would be willing, or is she saving them to pass on to Mickie, her niece?

Howard Bowers wills his bottle of Percy's Pulverized Peroxide Powder to Barbara Considine to brighten up her long golden tresses.

David "Paleface" Burney wills his flashing smile to Mr. Purdy to help brighten his gloomy Monday mornings.

Jane Herrick wills her title of Carnival Queen to any up and coming monarchs. You'd better ask Jane for the secret of her success.

As we continue to turn the pages of this dusty parchment, we see where Princess Color-Change Cahee has willed her book, "How to Make Your Hair Match Your Outfit" to any girl who is looking for a change any minute now.

Betty Chapman is willing her latest shipment of postage stamps to anyone wanting to carry on a long-winded lover's correspondence.

Pete "Greek-um" Chilos wills his cue-stick to anybody behind the eight ball.

"Bucking" Hank Dahlgren leaves the address of his private jeweler to all underclassmen who might need some extra class rings to distribute to their many girl friends.

Connie Dailey leaves her Dairy Queen crown of simulated diamond milkbuckets to all up and coming young squirts.

Pat Duclo and Janet Lassar leave their height to all mushroom pickers so that they won't have to bend down so far.

Gosh, what's this? What horrible old nags! Oops! we're sorry. It's only George Favor's horse stable. Oh, well, they're not quite dead yet. Maybe George would be willing to will one to Russ Shedd. It seems Russ has quite a time getting to Rutland. A horse might be the answer to his problem.

Louise Flanders has a complex. She doesn't quite know what to leave her sister Deanna. Maybe one of her old boy friends will be the best thing?

Fleetfoot Don King leaves his speed and versatility to next year's football team, so that the Red Raiders will be the ruling monarchs of '54.

"Yogi" Garcia wants to give back to the high school all the athletic equipment he borrowed and "forgot" to return. But he can't. It seems he has had to pawn it in order to buy gasoline for his DeSoto so he and "the Red" could go "collecting Carbon Monoxide."

Wow! Who's that over there washing her hair in the brook? Why it's Barb Gilbert. Barb told me the other day she would be glad to will her name to any underclassman so the Gilbert regime will continue to add beauties to the R.H.S. roster.

Jean Haigh and Gretchen Griffith leave their unusual talent for siphoning water with solid glass tubing to Mr. Sloan's chemistry proteges.

Rogene Howard is willing to give away her tattered and torn-up driver training book in the hopes that women drivers will read her newest driver training book "Maneuvering Curves on Dark Nights Without the Aid of Extra Equipment."

Ruth Johnson leaves her old gooey gum wrappers to Gordon Lear. It seems Gordon could use these to wrap up Judy on cold nights!

Joan Brewster leaves her drum majorette's baton to the junior girls to give them something to strut for.

Arleen Mayer leaves her personality and giggling moods to pep up Mrs. Greene's seventh block library.

Mary LaFond wills her weird whispers and gagging snickers to any underclassmen who want to annoy English teachers.

"Wedding Bells are Ringing"—Phyllis McCullough wills her way with men to any girl who wants to snag a mate.

Linda McKerley wills her last dollar to any Sherlock Holmes who can find out who put in that mysterious phone call to her.

Dynamic Donnie Mitchell wills his "Casanova Capers" to Ronnie Edwards. Take heed, Ronnie!

Lois Perry unwillingly parts with her quiet manner—it seems she thinks Roy McGee, the up and coming track star, should be a little less free with his wiley-wilting wisecracks!

Mary Roberts leaves the girls of the class of '54 a blue Cadillac to transport them to Proctor. It seems Mary struck it rich in this small town and wants to give other girls the same advantage. Some change from the covered wagon days!

Ted Taylor leaves his scintillating spine-tingling laugh to "The Shadow." Ted may be the future "Shadow." Watch the horrifying-harassed-hiccupping tales of the Press for further information.

Nancy "Red" Russell leaves her effervescent pep and energy to Pat Keefe to help perk up next year's cheering squad.

Jack Westburg wills his butch hair-cut to "The Fuller Brush Man" in hopes of obtaining a "purse" of wealth!

Mary Senecal leaves her brains to be distributed among next year's shop boys. It seems they never find time to do their homework—their excuse—"No Brains"!

Jackie Webster wills her sense of humor to Bob Hope's script writers. Poor Bob!

Gordie Stevens leaves his famous Curve Ball to Ronny Horton. It seems Gordie's contract with the Red Sox prohibits the use of curves.

Char Sheldon wills her talent for stirring glue to Hope Thompson; so she will always stick good in whatever she does.

Jack Spafford wills his hot rod to Jesse Ginsburg. It seems Jack is reforming; he is now Mr. Canary's number one pupil. Comment from the Happy Hunting Ground "How! How!"

Pete Perkins gladly wills his two front teeth to any boy who is willing to be unlucky in love. Mrs. Garcia says it's an old Spanish saying—"If between your teeth you have a space, you can be sure that with your girl you won't be top ace."

Al Shackett wills his job at the First National to any intelligent young man who is looking for a "Bird's Eye" view of life.

Pat Mullin wills her collection of sheer blouses to be put in the trophy case. We think this will prove to be a good omen for future sportsmen.

"Woody" Sargent leaves her famous nickname to the Vermont State Board, in the hopes that the Reforestation Project is successfully executed in the near future.

Ronald Woods leaves his height to all short floorwalkers in order that they may be able to see over the heads of the crowds.

Now that we have come to the end of the parchment, I think we had better hop onto our Pinto Ponies and gallop away to our happy hunting ground before the tribe of '53 starts their massacre. We heard rumors that their victims are to be the class lawyers. We wonder why! Before we make our departure, we affix our titles to this testimonial.

ARLEEN MAYER AND STEVE LYNE

As your old and trusted medicinemen, having communed with the Great Spirits, both good and evil of the future, and having consulted with the great gods of our nation, we feel fully prepared to inform you of some of the startling events that will befall some of the illustrious braves of the Red Raider Tribe of Rutland High School.

Don Bashaw has just returned after a year's work as stage manager of the Rockettes. Don says, "The work was mighty tough, but the scenery sure made it interesting!"

The head librarian of the Leighton Williams Memorial Library in Rutland, Siberia is Ellanora Burke, who was named to the post because of her loud and uncontrollable voice. Williams founded his fortune by publishing that great book by the well-known taxidermist, Robert Branchaud, "How to Remove Musty Smells From Dried Dodo Feathers."

Birth column of the "Rutland Herald" has just announced that Mrs. David Mack, better known as "Mother Bantis," has been named "American Mother of the Year," upon the arrival of her new set of quintuplets.

Gather around wrestling fans! "Jungle" Jim Grady will be seen tonight in the arena, confident of butcherin' the "Mighty Joe Young" for the world's Atlas crown. Bubbling Betty Cameron, who will serve as a second in Jim's corner, predicted today that her devoted husband will post an easy victory.

Sir Duncan MacLauren has started a stainless steel razor blade company in Bloody City. On the opening day, a newly perfected Sympathy Soothing Shaving Solution will be given with each purchase of these blades.

Rude Swanson is resting comfortably at the Mary Fletcher Hospital after having sprained three muscles in his right little toe when he dropped the 5000 lb. barrel on his foot during training for his heavyweight championship wrestling bout with Ruthless Richard Crossman, the present titleholder.

We, gazing into our smoke cloud, see that Steve Lyne has just been lynched by a group of irate New York Knickerbocker fans. It seems that Steve lost his glasses and called "time out" as the winning basket was being scored.

The title of "most valuable baseball player of the year" was given to Miss Geraldine "Fireball" Cheney. She credits her success to the outstanding coaching of her fiance, Don King.

Priscilla Rice and Mary Ann Horton are serving as missionaries in the darkest wilds of Texas. They are trying to civilize the wild redheaded Garcias.

Adele Kennedy has become the first woman to appear before the U. S. Supreme Court. She successfully defended two R.H.S. students accused of skipping school.

Caroline Redington has been awarded the Pulitzer Prize for her recent novel, "Under the Moon You Can Tell Your Girl Anything Under the Sun." She states that her characters are drawn from her senior class in high school.

Barbara Lear and Wanda Welsh have developed a new drug called "Terrible Tessies' Tiny Tasty Tantalizing Tidbit Tablets" that allows people to grow taller overnight. Their only regret is that they didn't find it while in high school.

Ah, yes, the smoke signals are bringing goooooood news tonight. Herb Russell, former Star-Cloud of the Raiders, has just been voted "Mr. Rudolph Valentino of 1973" as the nation's number one choice for the tenth consecutive year.

Pat Derby has been chosen by the high school students of America as the teacher with the most class.

Joan Hack, Janet Sodergren, and Bev Wheeler have opened a Secretarial School. The school is exceedingly popular as a result of the charm and pulchritude of the teachers.

Gene Tappan, who has replaced Al Einstein as the foremost scientific brain in the nation, was last seen 10,000,000 light years away, speeding toward Mars in his newly perfected rocket ship named "The Sloan."

Phil Fowler has been promoted to the rank of Full Admiral in the United States Navy. He plans to make a trip to the Hawaiian Islands on his ship the "U. S. S. Chapman," to investigate the grass shortage.

Joan Goodrich, the Pinball Queen, and Big Ed Turner have combined gangs and are running the rackets across the nation. It is reported that their joint income tax return pays the salaries of the President and his cabinet.

On display in the New York Museum of Fine Arts is Mimi Bolton's widely acclaimed portrait of the great Shakespearian actor, Richard "Macbeth" LaCoe.

Say, what have we here? Gossip highlights from the "Copacabana" in New York City—Feature attraction of the night was Jack Dye's Dance Band, starring Dick Ianni, as soloist on the clarinet.

Tearing down the warpath at a roaring sixty in the town of Itchiguma, Don "Fleetfoot" Sharon, broke the Olympic record for the mile run in a minute flat.

Pat Seward and Maxine Lubinsky are directing a movie called "How to Develop a Happy Marriage."

Elna Senecal recently appeared in Carnegie Hall where she scored a smashing triumph. Critics predict a brilliant future for the talented lass from Vermont.

Donald Evans has signed a contract with the Colgate Comedy Hour. His sponsors expect him to make the public forget Jerry Lewis.

Mary Carpentier, Carol Hyland, and Franny LaMoria have set off on a slow boat to the moon to get away from it all.

Larry "Aly Khan" Muhlberg has accepted the position as Maharaja of "Las Vagas." His first official act was to hire a harem of 23 slinky, Salome girls who entertain him.

Richard Frenier, better known to all sports enthusiasts as "Fearless Frenier," has retired from active competition after having won the annual coast to coast hot-rod race.

Flash: Kacy Chapman has been chosen "Miss Maple Sugar of 1973." She has built up her business from a one horse stand in North Clarendon to a chain of stores across the vast extent of Vermont.

Smoke cloud about town! Bonnie Phillips has just ripped up her contract at the Old Howard and is now appearing nightly at the Palace in New York.

Jack "Nimblefingers" Grace made his debut with the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra last night, as the curtain came down with a thundering applause.

A new road map to Proctor has been published by Phyllis Leach in collaboration with Sheila Haggerty; they used their experiences while in high school as a basis for their work.

Marjorie Spencer has been named "Miss Build" of 1970, 1971, and 1972 by the Firm Construction Company.

Dick Bersaw has accomplished what the finest engineering minds in the country have failed to do. He has patented a left-handed monkey wrench.

Jane Nault, the famous fashion designer, has added another feather to her bonnet for her design of the inaugural gown for the newly-elected first woman President of the United States, Pat Cheney.

Latest smoke signals from the squaws' sewing circle: Mary Webber has won the title of "The Most Beautiful Spinster" for the fifth time. She blames her predicament on the fact that she was deserted by her lover, Pete Perkins.

This completes our prognostications of coming events on the new reservation. It is now up to you, the braves and squaws of the Red Raider tribe of 1953, to make your own decisions on your future.

Class Song

ELNA SENECA

The time has come when we must part
From this, our Rutland High.
We look back on these four years,
And in reverence do we sigh.

Our teachers and our classmates,
The hours we've spent together,
The maroon-clad band on gay parade,
Football in frosty weather.

All these things will we remember,
And many, many more,
For never again will we ever find
More happiness in store.

As we bid farewell to high school,
Our paths of life unfold.
Our goals are wide and varying;
Who knows what our futures hold.

Yet each of us will remember,
For although this day departs,
Our years in Rutland High School
Are forever engraved in our hearts.

Student Council

The Student Council plays an active part in the life of every student in Rutland High School. Problems concerning student activities and ways to make school more attractive and interesting to the pupils are aired at meetings of this body made up of representatives of home rooms and major activities.

We know that student councils deal with government and politics, but few of us realized to what extent until the National Elections of 1952 were made so real to us through the sponsorship by our Council of a mock campaign. The battle between the Democrats, Republicans, and Vegetarians developed keen interest among the members of the student body during late October and early November.

At the annual meeting of the Association of Vermont Student Councils in December, R.H.S. was represented by Mr. Howard Douglas, faculty adviser; Peter Perkins, Stuart St. Peter, and Evelyn Izenberg. At the meeting, held this year at Hartford High School, we were honored by the election of Stuart St. Peter as vice-president, and of Evelyn Izenberg, as treasurer of the state association.

We all remember that familiar cry "Inspection!". This activity reached all of us in our homerooms, and had a beneficial influence upon the school, for our school is noted for the excellent condition in which the students keep their classrooms.

As its money raising project this year the Council sponsored an Abe Lincoln's Birthday Ball on February 11. Projects this spring were an essay contest and also an Industrial Arts contest. The divisions in the shop contest were in metal and woodworking areas. The essay contest was on the subject: "How Can We Improve Our School?" Prizes amounting to $18 were awarded.

Another project discussed by the Council was the proposal that the school system be reorganized to allow an earlier dismissal in the afternoon. The Council also appoints from the senior class the boys who attend the regular meetings of the Lions Club.

National Honor Society

The highest honor which a high school student can achieve is to be elected to membership in the National Honor Society. The cardinal principles forming the basis for selection are scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

Each year a number from the junior and senior classes are chosen by the faculty. Those who were members this year were Betty Cameron, president; Jane Herrick, Linda McKerley, Peter Perkins, Gene Tappan, and Mary Webber.

At the induction ceremony held April 13, 1953, five from the class of 1953 and five from the class of 1954 were initiated into membership in the Society. The seniors were Dale Benway, Patricia Cheney, Donald Evans, Stephen Lyne, and Arleen Mayer. The juniors, next year's members, were Julie Beane, Judith Clark, Evelyn Izenberg, Georgia Louras, and Shirley Rice.

Girls' State and Boys' State

In May, 1952, six girls and eleven boys, chosen by the faculty for their leadership, citizenship, and character, were summoned to the office where they were notified that they would represent Rutland High School at Green Mountain Girls' and Boys' States the last week of June at Vermont Junior College and at Norwich University, respectively.

These States are mythical states with their own towns, counties, and political parties. Town meetings, caucuses, campaigns, and elections of state, county, and local offices made up the week of governmental instruction for Vermont high school students who would be graduated with the Class of 1953, under the supervision of the American Legion and Auxiliary.

At Girls' State Jane Herrick defeated two other R.H.Sers, Janet Bidgood and Linda McKerley, for the governorship. Betty Cameron served as Chairman of the Federalist Party. Herbert Russell was elected to the office of Lieutenant

Jane Herrick, Herbert Russell, Betty Cameron

Girls' Nation and Boys' Nation

Governor at Boys' State; Donald Evans, Stephen Lyne, and Gene Tappan became Senators, and Peter Perkins was a Representative. Other R.H.Sers held county and local offices.

At Girls' and Boys' States, the delegates selected a group whom they felt truly represented the States. From this group four, two from each of the States, were chosen to attend Girls' and Boys' Nation in Washington, D. C. later in the summer. Rutland was indeed honored to have two delegates chosen for Girls' Nation, and one for Boys' Nation. Betty Cameron, Jane Herrick, and Herbert Russell were three of the four delegates from Vermont.

Monitors

The monitors of 1953 were selected by a group of teachers to assume the responsibilities of the faculty during the passing of classes. The main task of moving five hundred students in the three minute interval between classes without major catastrophes was their most important function. The group of thirteen boys and fourteen girls were chosen for their reliability, interest in service, and character traits that were indicative of good leadership. Stephen Lyne was elected president, and Patricia Derby, secretary-treasurer. Miss Katherine Moran was the faculty adviser, with Miss Bailey and Mr. Sloan as assistants.

In as much as the monitors had to defray certain expenses, such as armbands for the class of 1954, their banquet, and assistance in some of the activities in the high school, it was necessary for them to raise some money. They did this by putting on the annual Monitors' Dance, and by presenting a movie in assembly. They also held fudge sales in the fall and spring to meet expenses.

The group concluded the year with a banquet, and upon their last day in classes gave over their duties to the juniors who were moving up on that day.

Red and White

Linda McKerley served as editor-in-chief for the 1953 Red and White, with Janet Bidgood as senior associate editor. Two seniors, Arlene Mayer and Donald Evans, served as feature editor, and news editor, respectively. John Patten, a junior, was the sports editor for the newspaper. Gene Tappan and Stephen Lyne alternated as news columnists.

Under a strained budget of $1500, the staff published a total of twenty issues, and a special "extra" which was printed in co-operation with a mock national election campaign sponsored by the Student Council.

Mrs. Ruby J. Dexter was the capable faculty adviser of the Red and White for the 1952-53 school year. Miss Madeline S. Buttles, the regular adviser, was awarded a college scholarship, and Mrs. Dexter substituted for her.

Constance Dailey served as business manager with Georgia Loras as her assistant. Exchange editors were Joan Brewster and Larry Muhlberg. Louise Sargent worked on the Art Staff. Senior typists were Elizabeth Chapman, Geraldine Cheney, Carol Hyland, and Patricia Seward. Three hundred and fifty-three tickets were sold to the student body, providing $431 from student subscriptions.

The Red and White was given two exclusive interviews; one was with Dorothy Canfield Fisher, and the other with Miss Norbelle Moses, a teacher from Ceylon.

There was much emphasis placed upon co-operation, interest and initiative. Staff meetings were held on Monday afternoons, and a policy was inaugurated which defined the responsibilities of each staff member.

I. R. C.

Because of the active participation of about sixty members, one of the most successful years in the history of the International Relations Club at Rutland High School occurred in 1952-53.

The organization elected as its officers: Donald Evans, president; Jane Herrick, vice-president; Julie Beane, corresponding secretary; Judith Clark, recording secretary; Gene Tappan, treasurer; Patricia Derby, assistant treasurer; Georgia Loras, program chairman; and Gretchen Griffith, roll-caller. Faculty adviser, Miss Carolyn Lee Allen, directed the projects for the year.

The club engaged itself in helping their German exchange student friend, John Olf, with his work in Germany; in a "Save the Children Federation Clothing Drive" which netted eighteen bags of clothing, in a county-wide United Nations workshop, in the publication of the "I.R.C. News Notes," and in presenting a program to the Rutland Woman's Club.

The members sold goods for "Roxie" during the football games, besides Red Raider pins, cards, pencils, and special bookcovers. The largely attended informal dance, "Rund Skade Plats" was a financial as well as a social success. Money from these projects goes toward the Exchange Student Fund, and Shawnee Scholarships, as well as to such groups as the "Near East Foundation" and other philanthropic organizations.

Speakers for the year included the Reverend Harvey D. Butterfield, Donald Sherburne, John Seitz, Miss Norbelle Moses, a kindergarten teacher from Ceylon and in this country on a Fullbright Scholarship, and the Reverend G. Lewis Porter.

Mimes

This year Mimes and Junior Mimes were combined into one group. At the regular meetings on alternate Wednesdays plays were read. Among those read were: "Tomorrow the World," "Our American Girls," and "Mother Is a Freshman."

The group voted to subscribe to Players Magazine which was placed in the school library for the use of all students.

At a meeting early in the year, Mrs. Howard Willard, a prominent member of the Rutland Players Club, spoke to the club on acting and its techniques. A visit to the Rutland Players Club was a highlight, for the group was able to derive much information about scenery, costumes, and production. The workshop was shown and its use and purpose described for the benefit of the youthful actors.

Mrs. L. Mabel Morrill was faculty adviser. Mimes elected Bonnie Phillips, president; Evelyn Izenberg, vice president; Jane Herrick, secretary; and Mary Lou Reedy, treasurer.

Commuters

The Commuters' Club had a very successful year. The organization which began in 1937 has as its purpose a program of entertainment for the students who stay at school during the lunch hour. Mr. Henry Doll, the faculty adviser, was assisted by Miss Mary Bresnehan in the supervision of the group and its projects.

Officers for the year were:

Co-Presidents	JANE HERRICK, HERBERT RUSSELL
Vice-President	EDWARD COLE
Secretary	RUTH JOHNSON
Treasurer	BEVERLY FEE

The membership was large and active. Dues for the year were ten cents. Several times during the year candy was sold. Games and ping-pong were recreational activities enjoyed during the noon recess.

In appreciation of their excellent work in the cafeteria, Mrs. Kasupski and Mrs. Crossman were given flowers. A gift was given to Mr. Guild, and flowers were sent to Mrs. Guild when they left Rutland High School.

Library Council

The purpose of the Library Council is to plan projects to celebrate Book Week. Through this means the Council hopes to interest students in the library and encourage them to use it. Mary Ann Horton was chairman of the Council this year; Jane Nault, business manager; and Ruth Johnson, assistant business manager.

The Library Council's project this year, however, was different from those of other years. For the observance of Book Week, November 16th through the 22nd, the group borrowed and put on a display of approximately one hundred books. Each student in the school had the privilege of voting for five books selected from the display that he would like to have purchased for the school library. The Council had sixty dollars, collected from fines, for the purchase of books. Chosen according to the number of votes received, twenty-six books were purchased. Two of the books selected were "Old Man and the Sea" and "The Silver Chalice."

An assembly to introduce Book Week was sponsored by the Library Council. Two well-known authors, Mrs. Dorothy Canfield Fisher and Mr. Robert Nading Hill, were guest speakers. Mrs. Fisher, a noted short story and novel writer confined her remarks to the need for supporting the United Nations. She has just written a book called "A Fair World for All." Mr. Hill, whose books deal with Vermont, has written "Contrary Country" and "The Winooski." He spoke about his experience as a writer. Mary Ann Horton presided as chairman of the Council during the assembly, and Christine Bianchi discussed the display of books in the library and the method of selection by the student body.

The Band

"Here comes the band!" What a thrill to see sixty-two musicians in trim maroon uniforms and led by eight majorettes come marching down the field with not one crooked rank and no one out of step. Mr. Low, our music director, deserves much credit for making our band one of which we may be proud.

The band this year had many new members from the Freshman Class. The student director was Richard Ianni, and his assistant was Dale Benway. Joan Brewster was chosen Head Drum Major and Karleen Chapman, Head Twirler.

The band marched at all the home football games, putting on pre-game and half-time shows. The best football show was put on at the M.S.J. game on Armistice Day. It consisted of the "Story of Two Alumni" complete from baby carriage to college, a precision drill, and letter formations with the M.S.J. band. The band also played at the football pep rallies and pep assemblies, as well as at many other assemblies.

The first parade of the year in which our band participated was the United Nations Day parade on October 24. This was followed by the Armistice Day parade.

The band supplied solos and ensembles for concerts at the P.T.A. on November 18 and the Lions Club on November 19. On November 21, the band gave a solo and ensemble concert to raise funds. It was a real success.

On February 26 and 27 the Plainville, Connecticut High School Band visited Rutland and took part in a joint concert.

This was followed by a concert of solos and ensembles from the band, featuring the R.H.S. mixed chorus on March 27. The final concert of the season was given on April 24 here at school. This was a joint concert with the Malden, Massachusetts High School Band.

The Rutland High School Band took part in the Southern Vermont Audition Festival which was held in Rutland on May 16. Members who participated in the All-State Band were Cheryl Hemenway, Richard Ianni, Shirley Seager, Sandra Norcross, Beverly Horton, Donald Evans, Joy White, Dorothy Paul, Robert Mulholland, Evelyn Izenberg, Mary Senecal, John Dye, Sibyl Chase, Christine Bianchi, Anthony Adams, Louise Sargent, Richard Mills, and Gary Wells.

Pamela Babcock, Richard Ianni, and Elna Senecal were chosen to be members of the All-New England Band. They went to Brookline, Massachusetts on April 9, 10, and 11. The band was also auditioned at the New England Music Festival at Storrs, Connecticut on May 23.

Chorus

Front row: Mr. George H. Low, Director, Carol Kallio, Patricia Milne, Joyce Chesley, Charlotte Fournier, Joan Petraglia, Roberta Bantis, Joanna Taft, Carol Barter, Christine Bianchi, Jane Herrick, Janet Judkins, Elna Senecal.
Row two: Linda McKerley, Phyllis Leach, Patricia Cheney, Mimi Bolton, Marilyn Svenson, Joyce Boutwell, Joy White, Meredith White, Cheryl Babcock, Dorothy Paul, Louise Sargent.

The mixed chorus directed by Mr. George H. Low participated in six different performances locally and had one out-of-state trip. It was auditioned at the All-State Music Festival held in Rutland and at the New England Music Festival in Amherst, Massachusetts receiving, as it has in the past, high ratings at both festivals. Two noteworthy appearances were concerts for the P.T.A. of Dana School and for the Christmas Assembly.

The chorus is organized in two groups, a regular glee club and a special chorus. Membership in the special chorus is based upon audition.

Among those who attended the New England Music Festival were Dale Benway, Linda McKerley, Jane Nault, Louise Sargent, and Gene Tappan.

Chorus members who attended All-State Chorus were Phyllis Leach, Roberta Bantis, Mimi Bolton, Jane Herrick, Carol Barter, Dale Benway, Larry Muhlberg, and Rodney Whitney.

Orchestra

Accompanist, Carol Barter.

Mr. George H. Low directed a successful, energetic orchestra composed of twenty-five members. Each musician rehearsed one section and one full rehearsal each week. The hard-working string section prepared for and played in two Solo and Ensemble Concerts, at assemblies, at meetings of local clubs, and at the Southern Vermont Audition Festival in Rutland.

The exceptionally fine orchestra carried out a busy schedule. It played between the acts at the senior play, "Ever Since Eve," for the Community Club, and at many school assemblies. The orchestration at Baccalaureate and Commencement Exercises was especially well-received.

The members who attended All-State Music Festival were:

Violins: Patricia Cheney, Joyce Chesley

Viola: Shirley Rice

String Bass: Julie Beane

Flutes: Pamela Babcock, Judith Clark, Joanna Taft

Bassoon: Janet Judkins

French Horns: Elna Senecal, Joan Petraglia

Trombone: David Petraglia

Those selected to play in the All-New England Orchestra were Patricia Cheney, Joyce Chesley, and Janet Judkins.

Art Club

Row two: Mary Ellen Dunn, Marie Bell, Phyllis Young, Lynn Svenson, Barbara Stanley, Roberta Murray, Miss Lucy Doane, Faculty Adviser.

The Art Club, made an active club this year after a lapse of several years, elected as their president, Jane Nault. Lynn Svenson and Sheila Sullivan were chosen secretary and treasurer, respectively. The regular meetings were held on Mondays, after school.

Various projects were carried on during the course of the year. Among them were table decorations for the Pittsford Sanatorium's Christmas and Easter celebrations, and posters for the juniors' and I.R.C.'s dances.

After the weekly business meeting the members worked on the club project, if there was one at the time, or on individual projects, such as water colors, posters, oil paints, and pastels. Some of the boys and girls experimented with stencil work, and others, with linoleum blocks. Miss Lucy Doane, faculty adviser, assisted all the members in their struggle to create.

In the spring a trip into the country was taken, and the group put on paper or canvas some of the beautiful, budding scenery of Vermont. Some of these paintings will be exhibited in the Vermont Scene Contest.

The Cheerleaders

R.H.S. rooters were encouraged by a squad of one of the most high-spirited and versatile cheerleading groups ever to represent Rutland High. Winning or losing, the girls, co-captained by Nancy Russell and Mary Webber, gave out "with the old fight." The other two graduating seniors, who brought much pep and vitality to the squad were Arleen Mayer and Betty Cameron, promoted from junior varsity the previous year. The juniors were Pat Keefe, Sandy Paul, and Jo Taft.

A sparkling highlight of the year was the football assembly before the M.S.J. game. The enthusiastic "warriors" in red and white and war paint, streamed up and down the aisles, building up the good old spirit that proved successful the following day.

New basketball uniforms were worn by the varsity at the second Rutland-M.S.J. game and during the rest of the season.

Congratulations are also extended to the lively twelve girls who made up the junior varsity cheering squad. Although these girls were not permitted to cheer at the out-of-town games, they did a splendid job at the home games. The girls promoted to varsity were Mary Bordeau, Joan Looker, Nancy Johnson and Carol Kallio.

Row two: Ronald Horton, Phil Knapp, Merrill Briggs, Thomas Eddy, John Westburg, Herbert Russell, Stuart St. Peter, Dan Allen.

Row five: Clarence Rider, Bert Crothers, Rudolph Swanson, Stratton Anagnos, Bruce LaSante.

Football

The 1952 Rutland High School pigskin toters started practice sessions the last week in August with sights set on duplicating the great undefeated record of the 1951 state championship team. Dame Fortune intervened, however, for the Red Raiders were beset by major and minor injuries before and during the gridiron campaign. Undaunted by the series of misfortunes, the Redmen led by Co-captains Garcia and Grady, emerged as one of the most respected teams in the state. A glance at the season's record reveals that our gridders gave every team a close battle, and although outscored in half of the contests they were never outfought.

In the season's opener R.H.S. met a formidable opponent in St. Johnsbury Academy which was later selected as the mythical state champion of Vermont. After a grueling contest the Raiders dropped the decision 14-6.

Bouncing back the following Saturday the Rutland gridsters ran roughshod over the Bennington Catamounts to the tune of 48-6.

Co-Captains

"YOGI" GARCIA, JIM GRADY

The next two weeks found the Raiders on the short end of the score when they lost heartbreakers to Spaulding and Burlington, the annual powers of the North. This marked Spaulding's first victory over R.H.S. since 1937, and the first for the Burlington Seahorses over a twelve-year span.

On October 16 the local gridders once again hit the victory trail when they won a hard-fought game over a good Bellows Falls team by a score of 12-6.

The following week the squad traveled to Brattleboro to meet the undefeated Organgrinders. The game was a thriller which was not decided until the final minutes of the fourth quarter.

Playing away from home for the second straight week the Red Raiders displayed new offensive strength when they tied the Springfield Cosmos 19-19. A feature of the game was Don King's brilliant 85 yard return of a kickoff for what was apparently the winning touchdown, with only one minute to play. A costly penalty erased the score, and Rutland had to settle for a tie.

In the big game on November 11 the Raider eleven was considered a three-touchdown underdog in their annual Armistice Day Classic with the undefeated Acads, who were running for the state title. As usual, the Redmen played their best game of the year and kept the Mounties in their own territory most of the game. The spirited Rutland eleven had three touchdown drives any of which, if materialized, would have spelled victory. In the first quarter Don King tossed a lateral to "Yogi" Garcia for a touchdown which was nullified because of a penalty. Again in the second quarter the Redmen threatened, but the half ended before pay dirt could be hit. In the third quarter Phil Knapp recovered a Mountie fumble on the 30-yard line, and Garcia and Grady lugged the pigskin to the Acads' ten yard stripe. At this point the Green Wave recovered a fumble and for the remainder of the game the fans were treated with some fine defensive play on the part of both clubs, featured by a great punting duel between Tom Carrigan of M.S.J. and Ronnie Horton of Rutland High.

Although the Redmen will lose eleven seniors including such stalwarts as Jim Grady and "Yogi" Garcia, the outlook for the future is far from dismal. Returning letter-men and squad members who are expected to play an important part in the grid machine in 1953 are: St. Peter, Horton, Knapp, White, Trinci, Cole, Briggs, Allen, Foltz, Rider, Patten, Kennedy, Galaher, Eddy, Thomas, Blanchard, Kent, Crothers, and Donahue. In addition, Rutland High was represented by the best junior varsity squad in a decade. Tutored by Mr. Albert Martin the young Raiders emerged from a difficult schedule with five victories and one defeat. Some of the J.V. players who are expected to fill the gaps left in the varsity ranks by the outgoing seniors are: Anagnos, D. Carrara, P. Carrara, Sherman, Swanson, LaSante, Billings, Pratt, Ballard, Bresnahan, Drescher, Stearns, Moore, Butterfield, Shedd, Armstrong, and Edwards.

Basketball

Because most of last year's state championship team was lost through graduation, the outlook for the 1952-53 season seemed uncertain. Phil Knapp, Olaf Garcia, Stuart St. Peter, and Jim Grady were returning lettermen. These four men with the addition of Steve Lyne were set on winning the Vermont crown for the second consecutive year. Although they did not attain this goal, the team turned in an enviable record of eighteen wins, and eight losses.

Before the Southern Vermont League season opened the Warriors met two defeats in nine games with teams from Northern Vermont and New York state. These games aided greatly in blending the Raiders into an effective combination who were strong contenders for the Southern Vermont League title.

At the beginning of the season Bellows Falls, Mount St. Joseph, Springfield, and Rutland were considered top powers for top honors. Nearly all these teams had starting material from last year's squads; while Rutland had but one starter, "Yogi" Garcia, who led the team through an impressive season.

The first game, with Springfield, saw the Redmen grab a hard-earned victory over the Cosmos. The following three games, with Bellows Falls, West Rutland, and St. Michael's, ended in wins for Rutland. The next two contests ended in close defeat at the hands of Mount St. Joseph and Bennington. Jim Grady's fine defensive work, and Steve Lyne's effective rebounding enabled the Raiders to defeat Brattleboro easily in two consecutive games. Springfield sent the Raiders down to defeat in a very close contest. Again the Rutlanders hit their stride, as they beat Bellows Falls, West Rutland, and St. Michael's, each by twenty points or better. The next contest, between Rutland and the Academy, saw the Raiders drop a thriller to the Green Wave in overtime 43-41. Stimulated by their previous defeat at the hands of Bennington the Warriors downed the Cats by a seven point margin.

The Red Raiders because of their fine ten and four record, now received a Southern Vermont tournament berth. In the first game Springfield was eliminated by Rutland in a hard-fought contest. Although the starting five were effective, the reserves proved their ability, as they turned the tide into a Rutland victory. An excellent performance was given by Ronnie Horton, Phil Knapp, and Don King.

The following night found Rutland pitted against M.S.J. for Southern Vermont honors. Although the Raiders threatened several times, the Academy offensive punch enabled the Mounties to take the southern crown. The final score was 61-51.

The outlook for next year is very promising. With the return of Stuart St. Peter and Phil Knapp as co-captains, Ronnie Horton, Harold Burke, and Dan Allen, the team is sure to be a top contender for the state title.

No longer to be guided by the able coaching of Coach Keefe are the graduating seniors: Olaf Garcia, Steve Lyne, Jim Grady, Don King, and Pete Perkins.

J. V. Basketball

Although the record of the Rutland High School Junior Varsity basketball squad for 1952-53 may fail to impress the casual observer, in reality, the team has served its purpose well by providing excellently-trained and coordinated material for next year's Varsity Squad.

This year the team was composed of two freshmen, twelve sophomores, and four juniors. The juniors did not play regularly on the Jayvee squad, as they played on the Varsity most of the time.

During the season the Jayvees played a total of twenty-two games, fourteen in competition with Southern Vermont League Junior Varsity teams, and eight with other teams in the state.

Scoring leaders for the year were Ronald Horton, James Ballard, Harold Burke, Richard Thomas, and Preston Billings.

 Row two: Thomas Quinn, Thomas Keilty, Richard Davis, Peter Lubinsky, Stratton Anagnos, Harry Kent, Joseph Cocklin, Richard Littler, Row three: Mr. Maxwell Moczulewski, Coach; Carroll Sanderson, Gerald Butler, Howard Loso, Lyle Willis, Merlin Cox, Robert Kaeller, John Sherman.

Freshman Basketball

Rutland High School's 1953 freshman basketball squad enjoyed one of the best seasons in recent years. Led by Dick Welch, Hubey Pratt, Henry Smith, Ken Wisell, John Hansen, Bruce LaSante, Dick Bowen, and Art Bowker, the boys compiled an enviable record of eight wins and no defeats. Most of these wins came over difficult opposition including the Middletown Springs varsity and the Wallingford junior varsity. To make their success even more complete the team won easily the annual Freshman tournament, through victories over Chester and West Rutland in the opening games, and an overwhelming win over Brandon (44-26) in the finals.

To add even more laurels to the 1953 Rutland High School sports season the Sophomore team under the expert guidance of Coach "Dido" Flaitz entered and won the Sophomore tournament. Victory was largely due to the work of three boys: Dick Foltz, James Ballard, and Richard Thomas.

Ski Team

This year the ski team had five members at the start of the season and was coached by Mr. Goshgarian. Captain Dave Petraglia, Tony Adams, Richard Thompson, Bob Mulholland, and Jack Dye made up the original group until the last-named broke his ankle and was unable to ski for the remainder of the season.

The team practiced regularly three times a week. If the weather was suitable, sessions were held at the Rutland Country Club. During unfavorable weather training was carried on at the high school. On Tuesday nights the group did night-skiing at Pico and whenever possible again on weekends.

The team attended seven meets during the season. On January 24th the skiers participated in an All-New England meet at Bromley. Late in January and again on the last day in February they skied at Woodstock. In March the team met Springfield at Mad River Glen on the first Saturday; on the 14th and 22nd they participated in meets at Pico. They were unable to attend the Southern Vermont District Meet at Putney.

Next year's team should be a top team since the four undergraduates have acquired valuable experience.

 Row two: Persis Brooks, Betsy Burke, Louise Hendee, Sally Greene, Shirley Baker, Virginia Flanders, Madelyn Ryan.
 Row three: Mary Ellen Russell, Loretta O'Bryan, Lynn Day, Joan Looker, Mary Bordeau, Nancy Johnson, Claire Burke, Beverly Wheeler.
 Row four: Andrea Bellerose, Neville Rodgers, Deanna Flanders, Irene Burditt, Linda McKerley, Sally Gerdon, Shirley Rice.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association consisted of girls from all four classes who were interested in sports. Miss Fredericks was supervisor. Sally Gerdon held the office of president. Barbara Gilbert was chosen vice president; Mary Horton, secretary; and Betty Shackett, treasurer.

Among their activities was an outing at Pico which was very successful. The group assisted the Athletic Association by ushering at basketball games; the ushers were Mary Horton, Barbara Gilbert, Shirley Rice, Betty Shackett, Judy White, and Beverly Horton. Candy was sold at the football games, and with the profit realized, a banquet was financed, and the Girls' Varsity Basketball team were able to purchase new uniforms.

Field Hockey

 Row two: Myra Hopper, Patricia Wood, Sally Greene, Arleen Mayer, Deanna Flanders, Virginia Flanders, Donna Pierce, Betty Shackett, Mary Lou Reedy.
 Row three: Joan Looker, Lynn Day, Andrea Bellerose, Neville Rodgers, Linda McKerley, Sandra Paul, Maxine Lubinsky, Beverly Wheeler.

Girls' Sports

FIELD HOCKEY—The field hockey season soared off to a booming start this year as the junior lassies, with Louise Hendee and Bev Horton scoring, nudged the frosh 2-0.

In the second game, which was between the mighty seniors and the determined freshmen, the former walloped the underclassmen 3-0. Mary Ann Horton, Linda McKerley, and Barb Gilbert made the goals.

The final contest proved to be the most exciting. In the first half, the juniors opened up the round with a 1-0 lead. The "never-say-die" seniors sparked in the second half to tie the score. Overtime resulted in the juniors walking off with the honors as Shirley Baker came through with the deciding goal.

Two all-star teams were chosen from the class teams—one Red, and one White. Three games were played. The first score was White 3, Red 1. The second game resulted in Red topping White 2-0, and the third and final round came to a close as a superior White team subdued the Red 1-0.

SOCCER—This year soccer was introduced into Rutland High School's list of competitive sports. Under the direction of Miss Mary Fredericks, coach, teams were formed in the physical education classes and pitted against each other. Class teams were then chosen and in competition the juniors defeated the seniors, winning the championship. Even though Sally Gerdon and Jane Herrick led the seniors, the underclassmen with Sally Greene pacing the way were victorious.

At the end of only one season the soccer teams have made a name for themselves, and it is more than a probability that they will be continued in the future.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

Row two: Neville Rodgers, Miss Mary Fredericks, Coach; Shirley Rice.

BASKETBALL—Led by Miss Mary Fredericks, coach, the varsity girl hoopsters played their way to real glory. The year 1953 marked an unusually successful year for them as they triumphed over Middlebury, Proctor, Fair Haven, Rochester, Wallingford, and Middletown Springs. Shirley Baker, a junior, hit successfully from all angles, and Barbara Gilbert, a senior, proved valuable under pressure. Beverly Horton and Betty Shackett, guards, were a great help to the winning team.

The senior girls racked up wins to assure them the interclass title. In the championship game they defeated the sophomores by a three point margin, 23-20.

In home room competition, a senior home room, 102, outclassed the others with an excellent team comprised of Barbara Gilbert, Jane Herrick, Adele Kennedy, Arleen Mayer, Linda McKerley, Sally Gerdon, and Frances LaMoria.

Two all-star teams were chosen; they were known as the Red and White teams. In a tournament of three games the Whites were victors.

SKI CLUB—This year the ski club comprised twenty skiing enthusiasts. Mary Hinsman was president and Betty Shackett was its vice president. The group joined with the Girls' Athletic Association and enjoyed an all day trip to Pico in the fall.

This is the first year the club has been in existence, but the members are hopeful of carrying on a variety of activities and enlarging the membership next year.

Other Sports

Shirley Baker, Mary Hinsman, Madelyn Ryan.

OTHER SPORTS—Archery, tennis, and badminton were some of the extra sports that made up the 1953 girls' athletic schedule. These were enjoyed to a large extent during the latter part of the year. Training was provided in gym classes so that many had an opportunity to acquire skills needed in the various sports. Several superior athletes were discovered in competition. Many tennis matches were held in the spring at the Rotary Field Courts.

Baseball

The 1953 Rutland High baseball squad began practicing early in April with the hope of repeating or bettering the fine performance of last year's team. Coach Albert Martin had plenty of available material, as there were seven returning lettermen, and many capable aspirants to all positions. Following the usual squad cuts, the Redmen settled down to the business of winning ball games. In their first two outings the Warriors were successful, as Ronnie Horton and Gordon Stevens pitched the Raiders to victory on successive days. Due to the Talisman printing deadline the results of the other games cannot be printed. However, from all indications the season will be one of the best in years.

Six seniors will be lost through graduation. Captain Olaf Garcia, the fiery, hard-hitting catcher; Gordon Stevens, a great control pitcher; Peter Chilos, an infielder; Jim Grady, outfielder; and Norman Davis and Rudolph Swanson are the graduates.

Track

Under the capable leadership of Coach Howard Douglas, the 1953 Rutland High track team shows every indication of developing into one of the finest squads in years. Although there were only six returning lettermen from last year's fine team, several undergraduates showed promise of being future track stars.

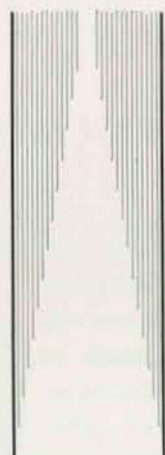

After coming out second in a close meet with Keene and Bellows Falls, the Redmen easily outscored teams from Brattleboro and Bennington. Due to the Talisman printing deadline the results of the other meets cannot be published. However, the remainder of the schedule is printed below.

Graduation will mean the loss of several of the scoring leaders including Steve Lyne, Peter Perkins, Donald Sharon, Herbert Russell, Fred Taylor, Edwin Turner, Donald King, and Roy Magee.

That's what the Basil L. Smith System offers to yearbook staffs. Our 20 years experience in this field means that extra lift over a production problem, when it is most needed . . . that extra assistance, to iron the wrinkles out of a layout difficulty . . . that extra service, designed to help schools chart a smooth journey to yearbook success.

We are proud to have given a helping hand in the publication of this fine annual . . .

WHAT'S A FRIEND FOR ANYWAY?

There are many, many special qualities you look for in a friend—but you always look for dependability. Dependability makes a friendship lasting—and for WONDERS it has made lasting friends of its customers, for our customers can depend on us to continue supplying quality clothing and shoes at the lowest possible prices. So, if a friend is someone you can depend on, you'll find real friends in the folks who work at
